Why should Residential Facility at University campus be preferred to PG or Rented Accommodations?

We have experienced in the past years that some of the parents/ students do not opt for residential facility at the time of admission and postpone this decision to look for other options. Though the University has a huge residential facility for the students, even then we have experienced the shortage of the same and when the parents/ students approach the University at the end, we are not able to accommodate them. So, in the interest of the students, it is advised that the residential facility should ideally be taken at the time of admission to avoid inconvenience at a later date. It is also experienced that generally students push their parents to allow them to stay outside the University in the privately owned rooms (PG) shared accommodation, which apart from its safety concerns are also prone to temptation of many social evils, which at their young age appears to be very attractive but create harmful effects on the students in the long term. There may be a wrong belief that PG living as compared to residential accommodation living is cheaper, but when all costs are taken into detailed consideration, then it appears that PG living in fact is more costlier and time consuming to commute up and down, below given are the points to support it :-
